Rain? What rain?

SPLASH DOWN

BY BRAD BOWMAN

Four years after a project to revamp the Eminence Pool was halted, a water-feature may soon be part of Coach D Park.

Last week, the Eminence City Council voted to apply for a Land and Water grant that would help fund a water recreational area at the park as part of the Eminence City Park renovations project proposal.

The resolution passed unanimously as the application's deadline was April 30.

If Eminence is approved for the grant, the city will consider a plan for a 1,050-square-foot water park, possibly a splash pad, which would be built in the area where the old pump house is located.

The park would include up to eight different aquatic play features for children to use. The water used would be

A Westport man who claims he shot two women in self-defense a week before Christmas is now charged with the sisters' murder.

An Oldham County grand jury indicted Ronald T. "Ronnie" Evridge on May 3. After police searched for him for several days, he was arrested early Friday morning.

Evridge, 57, faces two murder charges and one charge of tampering with physical evidence in the deaths of his girlfriend, Sandy Allen, 24, and her sister, Heather Faulkerson, 21.

Evridge claims he shot the women in self-defense.

"Hi Helen" history rooted in World War II era Austria

BY BRAD BOWMAN
Reporter/Photographer

In Port Royal, the words "Hi Helen!!! IFW" have hung on a barn for more than 30 years.

The origins of this story began about 67 years ago, not in Henry County, but Austria.

According to Joe

Winterberg, his father Ignace Fenlon Winterberg of Ludlow was an enlisted member of the 42nd Rainbow Division during World War II. He was a supply sergeant who did more than just receive supplies or procure them for his unit.

"My mother was staying with relatives in Salzburg, Austria, when the Russians took over part of Austria. My father smuggled her across Russian lines to visit her parents," Winterberg said.

Helena "Helen" Deimel had attended a culinary school before World War II began. Her relationship with Winterberg started as a friendship, which led to a trans-Atlantic adventure and a family of her own.

"Around 1947 my father brought her back to the states as a war bride," Winterberg said. "As an only child, she was a go-getter and although she raised me and my four sisters, she wasn't content being just a housewife. She

Suprise twists reveal county history

In my profession, you never know where the thread of a story will take you.

I recently wrote stories on the lead mine in Lockport and the history of Defoe each with a fascinating legacy. In this week's issue, I looked into the origins of a sign that has been on a barn for more than 30 years.

I naively expected less of a story and more of a, "Oh, so that's what that is," lukewarm tale to satisfy curiosity. I didn't expect to find a history beginning in Austria during World

BRAD bowman
Reporter/Photographer

War II, a man's life long affection for his wife nor a family memorial both requested on the property he loved and farmed.

These stories honor not just the history of an individual or town but of the county. History should not be dulled down to just dates on a timeline, but honor the colorful threads of the county's past and provide a foundation of identity for its future.

It almost seems unimaginable that Defoe once had four stores, a trucking company and two blacksmith shops. More unlikely that Lockport once had land set aside for a hospital and was one the busiest port towns in the state less than 200 years ago. Most residents don't know of the vacant property in Pendleton, which could easily rival any upscale horse farm's showroom in Lexington.

History, especially the county's history, speaks to me of what is possible not for just commerce, but for the individual.

This kind of history isn't taught in local schools. The modern lifestyle almost demands a family to run a race to financial stability without a sense of place or purpose. Our trades and occupations continuously spread families across several counties and states. It isn't uncommon for grandparents and parents to see each other more or less than once a year now.

The stories I know of my family were passed down from my grandparents and parents. It has given me a sense of myself and who I am.

With the geographical dispersion of families and the modern marketplace, the family history isn't passed on just as the history of a place isn't passed on. What is left of that history is sold at estate sales to buyers who have no connection to the place or person. How many people can we not identify in pictures from a former relative's family album?

Family history and the history of the county are intertwined—just as a sign on a barn in Port Royal speaks of people and place. It is my endeavor to seek out this history in the county and record it.

I am not arrogant enough to think I can teach it, but I can at least honor it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gina Lyle for circuit court clerk

As most know, election day is just around the corner. Gina Lyle and Nick Hawkins are running for circuit court clerk. Both are great people and have great personalities. But I believe Lyle is the best candidate.

I have nothing against Hawkins, and he is a great guy. But experience wins the race. Lyle has a total of 24 years under her belt. I feel that no one is more capable of running the clerk's office than her.

She already acts as circuit court clerk when (Henry County Circuit Court Clerk Mary Lou Roberts) is gone. Her coworkers respect her and it would be a smooth, easy transition.

I have been around Gina for many years through Relay For Life and academic team. I see her monthly at Relay For Life meetings and she is very dedicated. I believe that dedication is what makes her a great leader and candidate.

This spring, when Campbellsburg Elementary hosted Governor's Cup, she was there helping with anything that could be done and was in charge of hospitality. Lyle has been very involved and does have a great level of commitment to her work and her community, which is why she's in the position she is in now.

Last but not least, Gina deserves this job. She has worked her tail off for 24 years to reach this position. Lyle deserves to be circuit court clerk and I feel it would be morally wrong to vote a less experienced candidate in for office.

I want to thank the Local for giving me the opportunity to voice my opinion. Just remember, experience wins the race. Vote Gina Lyle.

Lincoln-Reagan Dinner was a success

President Reagan said "You and I have a rendezvous with destiny... If we fail, at least let our children and our children's children say of us we justified our brief moment here. We did all that could be done." It is important that we are educated and make informed decisions when we step into the voting booth.

Each year the Henry County Republican Party holds its annual Lincoln-Reagan Dinner, and invites Government officials, and candidates to speak and meet with area voters.

The Henry County Republican Party would like to thank Agriculture Commissioner James Comer, 4th Congressional Candidates: Marcus Carey, Alecia Webb-Edgington, Thomas Massie, Gary Moore, Brian Oerther, Gary Moore, Walt Schumm, and Tom Wurtz; Kentucky State Representative for the 47th district candidates: Charity Wolf-Edmonston, and T. K Broecker; and Commonwealth's Attorney candidates: Courtney T. Baxter and John Shaughnessy, for joining us and being a part of our Lincoln-Reagan Dinner. To have all these candidates in Henry County together, so that voters can meet them, was an important opportunity.

We would also like to thank those who sponsored the event, those who donated Silent Auction items, and to all who attended this wonderful evening, Saturday, April 28.

This year's Lincoln-Reagan Dinner was a tremendous success. We broke our attendance and fund raising records. I would like to personally thank all who attended for coming out, and supporting the Henry County GOP!

If approved for the grant, the city would match $60,000 from the general fund and receive $60,000 in grant money. Initial estimates for the water park project cost about $75,000. Other renovations costs would include: $18,000 to build a sec-

The Land and Water grant is available for projects up to $75,000 as a matching reimbursement that applicants must meet. The grant would come from the Land and Water Conservation fund which gives grant money to protect natural areas, acquire land for outdoor recreation and as an aid to renovate public outdoor recreational areas.

The shooting occurred around 3:30 p.m. Dec. 18, and police arrived to find both women dead and Evridge bleeding from a laceration in his arm.

According to family members, Allen had a 5-year-old child and Faulkerson was pregnant.

The shooting took place in a two-story barn in the 5400 block of 18-Mile Creek Road about five miles outside of La Grange in a rural part of the county.

The barn is on property belonging to Evridge's brother, although according to police, the barn is Ronnie Evridge's residence and is also a known hangout.

Police have been called to the property in the past.

Evridge has a criminal record including multiple drug charges, menacing and domestic violence. His court record lists 26 pages of charges dating back to 1995 — but most have been dismissed, including a charge of violating an emergency protective order or domestic violence order.

Evridge was court-ordered in the spring 2011 to not possess firearms, and police later seized more than 40 guns from the house in March.

The court order and probation came after Evridge's arrest in the spring for menacing, terroristic threatening, harassment and wanton endangerment.

A neighbor called the police after Evridge threatened to shoot the neighbor's Pomeranian.

When police arrived, Evridge made a number of threats and resisted arrest. Oldham County Police officers used a Taser on Evridge and transported him to a hospital.

Evridge told OCPD officers that he had "guns that can penetrate through five or six (officers) stacked up," and that the officers were lucky he didn't have a gun or he would have shot them.

"I'll make blood run down the streets of La Grange," Evridge said.

Evridge had been on the run recently, and had warrants for other charges, including a probation violation.

Kentucky State Police located him about 2:30 a.m. Friday and he tried to flee from a building in New Castle. He was arrested in the 1400 block of La Grange Road in Henry County and police recovered multiple weapons and an array of ammunition from the building and from Evridge's vehicle.

He is now in the Oldham County Jail.

He was jailed for a different probation violation shortly after the women died at his home.

Evridge spent Christmas weekend in Oldham County jail after violating his probation by associating with one of the victims, Sandy Allen, a known felon who had been convicted of drug possession in earlier in the year.

Evridge was also court-ordered not to possess or purchase any firearms or ammunition during his probation.

Evridge called his probation officer, Richard Gray, on Dec. 20 and admitted to shooting both women. He also told Gray he purchased two handguns, a .44 Magnum and a .22 caliber, about 10 days before the shooting.

Evridge told police his estranged wife, who lives nearby, purchased ammunition for the .44 Magnum.

As police arrested Evridge in March 2011, he told them, "Be lucky I didn't have a gun, I would've shot you" and "If you like your life you'll wish you would have never done this."

engines from steam to diesel and electric, Winterberg went to work for the New York Central Rail Road in Cincinnati, Ohio. He stayed with the company, which later became Conrail in 1976.

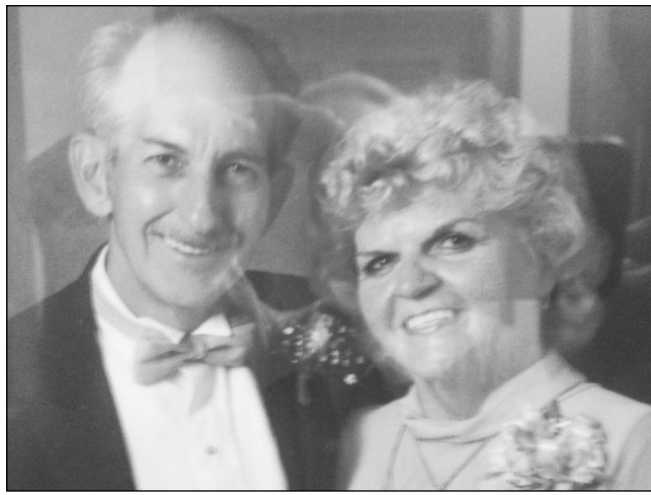

It was in the 1970s, the couple bought the farm in Port Royal.

A former brother-in-law painted "Hi Helen" on his barn in Gallatin County near I-71. He knew Helen would see it on her trip down to the property. The barn fell into disuse and was torn down. Winterberg's father put the sign on the couple's barn, and according to Winterberg, possibly before the 80s.

"She would make trips down there to keep him company. She was more of the city type," Winterberg said. "He would spend weekends down there and made the larger horseshoe pond and another one close the house."

The family retreat also has 40 year-old apple trees on the property. Winterberg still goes there at least twice month. His father died of lung cancer in 1990 and Helen followed him 12 years later.

"My father always wanted a farm. He loved piddling around. He made the larger horseshoe pond there and another one closer to the house," Winterberg said. "It was his way of escaping the trials and tribulations of everyday life."

Both Helen and Ignace were cremated and the couple's ashes were buried on the property with a commemorative stone affectionately marked with Opa and Oma (grandfather and grandmother in German) underneath their names.

No one stands alone in Christian faith

Bro. Glenn Johnson stood at the base of the steps leading up to the baptistry of the First Southern Baptist Church of Tallapoosa, Mo. He was about to baptize three young believers. Prior to this baptism, he had conducted most of his baptisms in nearby streams or in baptisteries of nearby churches. The First Southern Baptist Church of Tallapoosa, Mo., had a long name but it didn't have its own baptismal pool. Some older members may have wondered if the church really needed one. After all, if a stream was good enough for Jesus... Having been stung by wasps while watching an earlier baptism and having seen snakes in the streams, I was glad we finally had a baptistry.

MICHAEL*duncan*
Pastor, Eminence Baptist Church

I don't really remember much about the baptism itself. I remember the Sunday I walked down the aisle and "gave my heart to Jesus." I remember feeling proud that I had done this good thing. I remember feeling Bro. Johnson's kind hands on my shoulders as he presented me to the congregation. My friend Mike Littell made his decision that same day. Mike and I spent the afternoon together, much of it talking about what it meant to be a follower of Jesus. I wish I could recall what those two 9-year-old boys said about that. It was probably more profound that most adults would have thought possible.

My baptism took place at night. In our little church, two of the more important events in worship — Baptism and Communion — seemed always to take place at night. I'm not sure why baptisms were at night, but Communion was always at night because... well... it was the Lord's Supper. I'm glad that, in our church, both of these have moved into the light of day. Baptism is our public declaration of faith and ought to be witnessed by saints and sinners (more often than not, the same people). Communion is the declaration of the Gospel. As such, can it ever be a hidden event or one from which some are excluded? Not if I'm at the Table.

I have diverged from the main point. Baptism was about to happen and I was one of the ones to be baptized. Bro. Johnson, standing at the base of the steps, spoke to us. "I'm so very proud of you. What you're doing tonight is very important. You're saying to all who watch you that from this point on you belong to Jesus and that you are going to follow him. Tonight you become a child of God." One by one, we made our way into the water. I recall the feel of Bro. Johnson's strong hands, one on my back and the other covering my mouth and nose. I felt safe — safe in the arms of Jesus, arms that felt amazingly like Bro. Johnson's arms. On that night, they were one and the same.

The Incarnation happened only once, but incarnation happens again and again. A young boy began anew, set his face in a new direction, because Jesus touched him through the hands and arms of his pastor. Would I have found Jesus without Bro.

Johnson? I'm sure I would have. For one thing, I suspect I was and am more found by Jesus than Jesus was or is found by me. What matters is that I didn't come to faith apart from Bro. Johnson. I came to faith, in part, through the Jesus I met in him.

Baptism is a new beginning, and it is almost always a new beginning that has a human agent behind it—a human agent that manages the miraculous act of becoming an incarnation of Jesus and his love.

No one stands alone in the Christian faith. The Jesus we know we first meet in the flesh of another.

DOC PROMOTES HOLDEN

SUBMITTED

Kentucky Department of Corrections Commissioner LaDonna Thompson today announced the promotion of Paula Foree Holden to Deputy Commissioner of Community Services. A 30-year veteran of the Department, Holden's promotion is effective immediately. In her new role, she will oversee DOC's Probation & Parole Division and Local Facilities.

Holden most recently served as assistant director and director of classification and population management. In that position, she monitored and coordinated inmate population and transfer issues within DOC prisons and county jails.

"The skills set and experience that Paula brings to the position makes her an invaluable asset to lead Community Corrections for the Department," said Corrections Commissioner LaDonna Thompson. "Paula Holden has been a mentor throughout most of her career to numerous DOC employees. In addition, she is well respected by jailers and court staffs across the state and has worked with them for many years."

Holden began her DOC employment at the Kentucky State Reformatory (KSR) in May 1978 where she was employed as a clerical assistant for three summers while attending college. She was then hired as a correctional officer at KSR in April 1982 and a year later was promoted to classification and treatment officer at Luther Lockett Correctional Complex.

While at Luther Lockett, Holden also worked as an offender rehabilitation specialist and unit administrator I. She transferred to Roederer Correctional Complex and at that prison held a number of positions including unit administrator II and program administrator of the Assessment/Classification Center.

In December 2003, Holden was promoted to Deputy Warden at Roederer and served in that position until January 2006 when she was promoted to director of population management.

A 1981 graduate of Murray State University, Holden received her bachelor's degree in criminal justice and corrections. She graduated summa cum laude and was named the outstanding graduating senior in corrections.

Holden is the 2005 recipient of the Deputy Commissioner's Award for Adult Institutions.

A native of Henry County, Holden and her husband Bob reside in Sulphur with their daughter Jordan, a junior at Northern Kentucky University.

Adams signs with Pikeville University

BY JONNA PRIESTER
Publisher

Eminence senior Todd Adams began his playing career at Eminence High School as a rusty seventh grader.

In the years since his first game with the Warriors, Adams has come a long way, coach Mark Payton said. Payton added that Adams' hard work has paid off — two weeks ago, the senior signed a one-year scholarship with Pikeville University, where he will play baseball.

Payton put Adams at first base shortly after taking over as coach of the team, and said to see Adams leave will be hard. "His dedication to the game, he's always the first one to practice, the last one to leave," he said. "He just studies the game, loves it. He's the ideal baseball player."

Adams' $17,500 scholarship is just for one year, but Payton said he will have the option for further scholarship funds after the completion of his freshman year. "I don't see him not succeeding in college," Payton said. "He'll work his tail off and succeed."

Adams is the first player under Payton to get a baseball scholarship, and Payton was quick to defer credit to Adams' own hard work. "He takes hitting lessons; if he's at home, he's watching college baseball, professional baseball," he said. "He's a student

Lady Cats take 2nd at NCKC

BY GREG WOODS
For the Local

After stomping Trimble County 10-2 to win their way into the NCKC tournament championship game, the Lady Cats fell 4-2 to Walton-Verona to take second place.

In that championship game, the Cats took an early lead with two runs in the bottom of the first inning. Aly Stanley led the inning off with a single. Olivia Whaley reached on an error, gifting the Cats runners on first and second with no outs.

Ally Vaughn singled, which scored Stanley. Whaley was then thrown out at the plate on a ground ball by Amanda Wilson, but Vaughn advanced to third on the play and Wilson was safe at first. Samantha Head and MacKenzie Clifford drew consecutive walks to push Vaughn across the plate for the second run of the inning.

Walton struck back in the top of the second as they scored a run on a single and a double to make the score 2-1. After a scoreless third inning, Walton added two more runs.

But in the fourth inning, two Lady Bearcats walked, and the third batter advanced both base runners. On the following play, a deep ground ball scored a run and there was no play on the batter, leaving runners on the corners with one out.

The next batter grounded into a force play at second, allowing the runner on third to score the second run of the inning without the ball leaving the infield. Walton added an insurance run in the sixth inning to make it 4-2.

The Lady Cats had runners on in both the sixth and seventh innings but couldn't push across another run and came out just short of a conference championship.

"Walton is a good team," head coach Jon Kasten said. "They don't make mistakes, so you have to get base hits. It was a good, competitive game but we had a couple errors and walks, and that was the difference in the game. It was a good tournament for us even though we came up a little short. We played well in all three games. We played with a high level of intensity. We never doubted that we could win any of those games."

HCHS 10, Trimble County 2

Henry County jumped on Trimble County for three runs in the top of the first inning and never looked back as they rolled to the 8-run victory. In the bottom of the first Trimble got a run back but would only get one more the rest of the way as Krista Deburger turned in a strong pitching performance while striking out 10 batters. Aly Stanley also pitched a scoreless seventh inning.

The Cats added 4 more in the second inning to seal the win. Trimble added another run in the fifth and the Cats added 3 insurance runs in the sixth to make the final score 10-2.

Offensively the Lady Cats got good performances from several players: Olivia Whaley went 4-for-5, scored 2 runs and had 1 RBI. Ally Vaughn was 3-for-4 with 3 runs scored and 2 RBI. Deburger was 1-for-3 with 2 runs scored and 1 RBI and Amanda Wilson went 2-for-4 with 3 RBI.

"We jumped on top of them quickly," Kasten said. "I was very happy with the way we came out hitting the ball but after

In the middle of a double-header Saturday against St. Patrick, Eminence junior Brandon Mitchell was determined not to lose again.

Mitchell took the mound for the second game of the day and allowed no hits, striking out nine of the 18 batters he faced.

The dominant pitching performance came after the Warriors coughed up a 9-6 loss to the Saints, marking the small school's fourth win of the season.

"In that first game, we gave up a bunch of runs, started off like we always do," Eminence head coach Mark Payton said.

The Warriors coughed up three runs in the first, while scoring two of their own in the second. The game was relatively calm until the fourth inning, when, as Payton said "we fell to pieces."

In the fourth, the Warriors gave up six runs on three errors. "We just made some silly errors at some bad times," Payton said.

But Mitchell, it seemed, wasn't willing to take the loss lying down.

"Brandon Mitchell really battled that game," Payton said. "He kind of got mad that he got beat in the first game, and didn't allow any hits in his four innings."

"He's a very nice guy... but you make him mad, and he's a totally different player."

On top of the nine strike-outs, Mitchell allowed just four walks.

But he didn't just have a good afternoon on the mound, Mitchell also went 3-for-4 at the plate in the second game. He was joined by Todd Adams who went 3-for-3;

Wildcats on a roll, earn 2nd place district seed w/ Owen win

BY GREG WOODS
For the Local

After a tough start to their season, the Henry County Wildcats have won four in a row, and six of their last nine games to approach a .500 season.

One indicator of the team's improvement came last week in a 5-3 win over a hard hitting North Oldham team. This is the same team that defeated the Cats earlier in the year by a score of 17-3.

The Cats started the game strong at North Oldham. Austyn Sailings led off with a walk and stole second and third base. Jake Hartlage also reached on a walk and stole second. The good base running immediately paid off when Sailings scored on a Jared Payton ground ball to the short stop that was misplayed. Two more walks for Jordan Adams and James Pollard pushed Hartlage across the plate for the second run of the inning. North Oldham got one run back in the bottom of the inning to make the score 2-1.

Henry County added two more runs in the fifth to take a 4-1 lead. Hayden Hughes led off with a single; Pollard then got a one-out double to put runners on second and third. Matt Ricketts then got a big single to plate both runners and put the Cats up by three.

The Wildcats added a run in the seventh to go up by four runs. Stephen Archer led off with a walk. Sailings then reached on an error by the shortstop. Pitcher Aaron McClish then helped his own cause with an RBI single. North Oldham made it interesting in the bottom of the seventh as they scored two runs on a couple of singles and an error, but the Cats shut the door and came out with a big road win against a tough team.

Coach Austin Hunsaker was very pleased with the overall play of the team and especially his starting pitcher, McClish.

"This was a great win," Hunsaker said. "Probably the best win of the season. McClish pitched very well. He has been doing extra work in practice and it paid off. He kept them off balance and kept it down. They are a good hitting team and it was vital that he kept his pitches down in the strike zone. North made a lot of mistakes which we took advantage of and Matt Ricketts had a clutch two RBI hit."

of the game. That’s what it takes. I keep telling the other players... ‘you need to learn from Todd. You need to watch what he’s doing.’” Those rusty years included a few rough patches at the plate, before the coaching staff “set him straight,” and got Adams to refocus his game.

For Payton, watching the player who went from rusty seventh grader to a senior with a scholarship was humbling, and gave him chills. “It helps seeing a guy with all of this hard work paying off... because he put a lot of work into the game,” Payton said.

building the big lead we kind of rested on that instead of putting them away. Krista pitched well and Olivia had a good game offensively.”

HCHS 2, North Oldham 4

The night before the conference tournament, Henry County played a tight game with the Lady Mustangs and came up just a little short.

The Lady Cats started slowly, giving up what proved to be two critical runs in the first inning.

“They scored two runs early after a two out error and that really hurt us,” Kasten said. “We had several scoring opportunities but I felt that we played almost absentmindedly. We had at least five base running errors and three errors in the field. We hit the ball decently but the base running errors neutralized that. We just took a lackadaisical approach. Krista did hit a home run and Whaley had a good game offensively.”

Henry County had only four hits for the game but stranded six runners as they had six batters reach on errors and walks. Deburger gave up only one earned run and struck out four.

HCHS 7, Owen County 0

In a game that started the week off for the Cats, they finally got the win at the end of the week.

Owen County came to New Castle on April 28 for an important seeding match up for the district tournament.

The Cats were up 7-0 in the bottom of the fifth when bad weather ended play. The game could not be called because district seeding games have to be played to their seven-inning conclusion, meaning Owen County had to return to finish the game Friday night.

The Cats got offense from several sources in this game and Deburger pitched a four-hitter with eight strikeouts. The Cats got multi-hit games from MacKenzie Payton, Head and Wilson to lead a balanced offensive attack.

The victory leaves Henry County as one of the top two seeds in the district which will mean they only have to play two games in the tourney and will not have to face their biggest competitor, Gallatin County, until the final if both teams win their first game.

Kasten was pleased with his team’s play in the rain lengthened game. “I am pleased with how we played in this game overall,” he said.

“We scored early and our defense played pretty well. Krista pitched a good game. She got up early in the count better than she has all year, making Owen hit her pitch instead of falling behind and having to come to the hitters. She had eight strikeouts and kept her pitch count down.”

HCHS TRACK

HCHS track competes at NCKTC championships

BY GREG WOODS
For the Local

The Henry County Track team competed in the North Central Kentucky Track Conference Championships Thursday at Owen County High School. The NCKTC is not to be confused with the NCKC which is the conference that all Henry County athletic teams compete in. This conference is exclusively for track and includes more teams from around the area.

The boys’ team finished third with strong individual performances, while the girls’ team finished sixth and included a gritty performance in the 1,600-meter relay and a surprise win by seventh grader Sara Finley in the triple jump.

The overall team championship went to Western Hills in the girls’ competition and Owen County in the boys’ competition. The Western Hills girls defeated runner-up Trimble County 179-147. The Henry County girls finished with 56 points. Owen County squeaked by Western Hills 162-161 on the boys’ side, while the Wildcats had 104 points.

Finley — who has been practicing the triple jump but had yet to compete in a high school meet — was convinced by Coach Sed Williams to give it a try in this meet. It paid off for her as her 28 feet, 7.5 inch effort beat the field for the only first place finish of the meet for the Wildcats girls’ team.

“I’m looking forward to her competing in the middle school state championships to get more experience,” Williams said. “She has a lot of potential. She doesn’t have enough high school meets to be eligible for the regional meet. She was a little intimidated with the technical side of the event but this should give her a lot of confidence going forward.”

The 1,600 relay was also a highlight for the girls. The Cats finished second in the event just edging Trimble County by .19 seconds. “It was one of the most exhilarating races to see this year,” Williams said. “Everyone ran their best split of the year and Cathryn Fischer brought us back on her leg of the race and gave us a chance. The boys’ relay team also gave a great effort in this event. It was a great way to finish the meet.”

Individually, the girls got another strong performance from Destany Crawford. She finished second in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 17.96, just .02 off her personal best; she was seventh in the 300-meter hurdles with a time of 58.59; and she was part of the runner-up relay team.

Teagan Fish was third in the 400-meter dash with a time of 1:07.95 which was just more than .1 off her best time. Fish anchored the 1,600-meter relay team and was second in the javelin. Cathryn Fischer had fifth place finishes in the 300 hurdles and long jump to go with her clutch performance in the relay.

Haley Lewis placed fifth in the discus at 72 feet,

2 inches, and seventh in the shot put with a distance of 24 feet, one-half inch, to round out the scoring for the girls.

For the boys, Christain Cravens took home the only individual title as he won the shot put with a distance of 41 feet, 4.5 inches, which was about a foot better than his previous season best effort.

Blake Isaacs had a strong performance with a long jump of 20 feet, 2 inches, one foot better than his previous best leap, and good for second place. He also finished fourth in the 100 meters with a time of 12.06 and sixth in the high jump with a height of 5 feet, 4 inches. Isaacs also was part of the third place 400-meter relay team.

“One of (Isaacs’) goals is to qualify for state,” Williams said. “For him that jump was evidence that he has a legitimate chance to that.”

The 1,600-meter relay was one of the highlights of the meet. The team, consisting of John Allgeier, Matt Petree, Jared Yount and Cole Nelson, all had season-best splits to finish second. The Cats also finished third in the 400-meter and sixth in the 3,200-meter relays.

Other scoring performances included a fourth place finish by Mason Fish in the 200-meter dash and a seventh in the 100-meter dash, where he had a personal record time of 12.14.

Cole Nelson finished fourth in the 400-meter run with a personal best time of 57.9; Chase Slone also got a personal record in the event, finishing sixth in a time of 59.42.

Matt Petree finished seventh in 1,600-meter run with a time of 5:26 and Austin Payton finished sixth in the 3,200-meter run in 13:22.

Allgeier finished third in the 300 hurdles in 46.74 and John Bates finished seventh in 56.09. Allgeier also got a fourth place finish in the high jump with a leap of 5-04.

In the pole vault, Eddie Jones finished third with a height of 9 feet and Jared Yount was fourth at 8 feet, 6 inches.

Jones effort tied his personal record and Yount’s vault was a new personal best.

Nelson also scored a point in the long jump with a leap of 17 feet.

In the throwing events the Cats also got a good performance from Jacob Yount in the shot put as he set a personal record finishing fourth with 37 feet, 4 inches.

Austin Armstrong was sixth in discus with 104 feet, 1 inch. Cravens was seventh with a toss of 92 feet, 1 inch.

Williams was pleased with the team’s performance but wishes the team had a little more time to mature.

“It was the best meet for the kids to see how their hard work is paying off,” he said. “I think we will be competitive in regional, but I wish we had a couple of more weeks because the kids are just beginning to see what we can do. But I do think we will have a lot of personal records at regional.”

Justin Mitchell was 2-for-3; Trevor Payton and Austin Jones each were 1-for-2; Zac Whitmer and Nick Hamilton were 1-for-3; and Cole Lawson was 1-3.

In the first game, Justin Mitchell led the way going 3-for-4 at the plate; Brandon Mitchell and Adams each were 2-for-4; Travis Bell was 1-for-3; and Trevor Payton and Austin Jones each were 1-for-4. The Warriors committed seven errors in the first, while committing no errors in the second game.

The Warriors started a game against Owen County Monday, April 30, that was cut short because of weather. Because it's a district game, the match will resume today at 5:30 p.m., picking up where the 10-3 game left off in the top of the fifth inning.

Warriors drop Western, Lexington Christian

BY JONNA SPELBRING PRIESTER

After a hiccup loss against Carroll County, the Eminence softball team cranked out two wins last week, improving their record to 11-8, matching their 2011 season wins.

On Wednesday, May 2, the Warriors delivered an 18-0, 3-inning romp over Western High School. In the game, pitcher Brenna Raisor gave up just one hit, while dishing out two doubles and a triple to lead the Warriors.

Savannah Mertz had a home run; Kelsie Craigmyle had three hits; and Shelby Dees, Kara Capps and Marissa Puckett each had two hits.

"We just came out and hit the ball," head coach Bill Covington said. "It was very hot... we all made up our minds to get it over with. We played well and didn't have any errors."

The team played so well, the Warriors had 11 runs in the first inning alone.

Two days later, the Warriors took the field at Lexington Christian in what Covington described as a strange game.

The game featured an hour-long delay due to lightning, and Covington said his team "became very frustrated with some things that were happening around them," after saying he wasn't supposed to criticize umpires.

"We had an 8-2 lead, and we sort of let it slip away," he said. "There was a lot of drama happening in the last three innings."

Despite the drama, the Warriors hung on to take an 8-7 win. Chelsea Wood, Raisor and Mertz each had two hits in the game.

Getting a win despite adversity, Covington said, showed some maturity by his team. "We're beginning to learn how to win," he said. "I think two years ago, we would not have won this ball game. I think there's some good senior leadership.

"We're beginning to learn... we're not there yet, and there are times we still let things adversely affect us, but we're getting better."

The two wins give the Warriors some momentum heading into the last two weeks of the regular season. Monday night, the Warriors faced Gallatin County and Tuesday night they faced Owen. Friday night, the team is scheduled to square off against Frankfort — but Covington said that game could be rescheduled.

HCHS 16, Gallatin County 5

The game against Gallatin County started on April 28 and was tied 1-1 when it was stopped due to bad weather. The coaches for each team decided to restart the game on Wednesday, May 2, and it paid off big for the Wildcats. Even though the game was marred by several errors by both teams, Hunsaker was happy with the outcome.

"We didn't play great but we did what we had to do," he said. "We will be the number 2 seed in the district. This gives us a good opportunity to realize our goal of winning the district. Now we have two weeks to fine tune our game and get ready for the tournament."

The Cats got at least two runs in every inning except for the third. The game was called after six innings on the mercy rule. Sailings, reached base four times on two hits and two hit by pitches, scored three times and had two stolen bases. Hartlage was 2-for-2 with three walks and he scored four runs with 1 RBI. Payton was the big RBI man for the game as he knocked in five runs on two doubles and a single. Hughes and McClish also had two RBIs apiece.

It was an especially sweet week for Sailings and Payton. The two seniors not only played a big part in the two wins, but also found out that they will be signing with Asbury College next week.

SPORTSbriefs

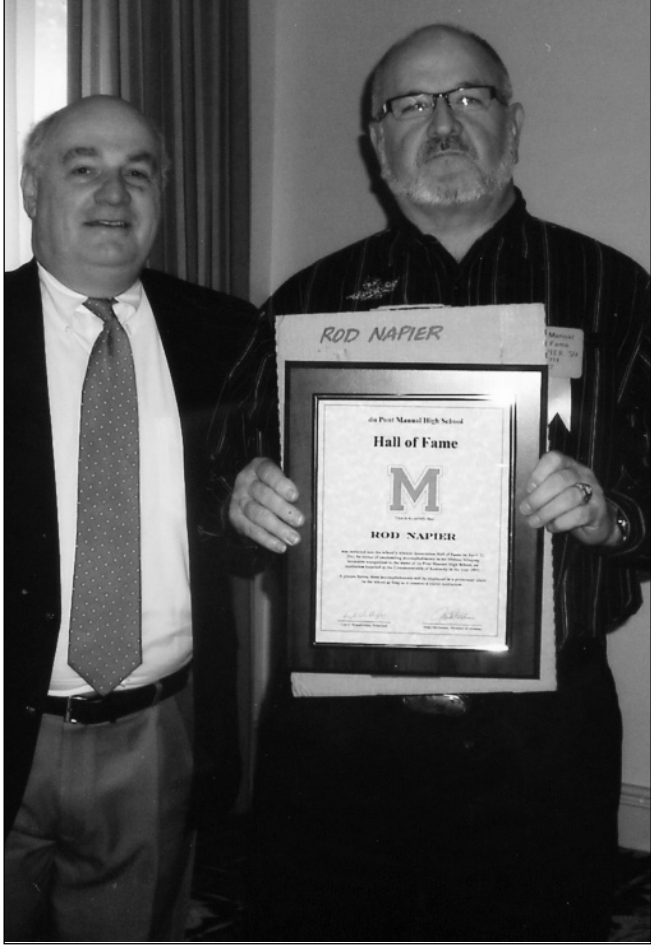

Baughman wins in Atlanta

Henry Baughman of Smithfield won the Atlanta Senior Invitational, Category II National doubles title in Georgia. Only the top 20 ranked players in the nation are invited; Baughman was ranked No. 9 in the USTA 70 and over division at the end of 2011.

He teamed with Jerry Caldwell to defeat the Van Winkle brothers of Georgia 6-0, 6-1 in the semifinals, and Al Griffin and Willis Anderson (N.C.) 6-3, 6-3 in the finals.

In singles play, Baughman defeated Ron Tindindale (Fla) 6-1, 6-1; Willis Anderson 6-1, 6-4; before losing to Neil Hulburt (Ga, and ranked #1 in 2010) 3-6, 6-7 in the final of the 75 and older division.

NAPIER NAMED TO HALL OF FAME

Rob Napier of Henry County was one of ten men named to the duPont Manual High School alumni Hall of Fame on April 22. Napier is the director of programs at the Cabbage Patch Settlement House. Napier and his wife Judy have lived in Henry County since 1998 on a 100 acre farm between Bethlehem and Gratz. Napier, 70, graduated from Manual in 1959; by winning the Kentucky State Long Jump Championship, he received a scholarship to attend the University of Louisville, where he graduated in 1963 with a bachelors degree in education. From 1963 to 1965, he volunteered with the Peace Corps in Venezuela. He has been with Cabbage Patch for 30 years.

Tic-tic-ticking away in the outdoors

Nearly anyone dealing with the outdoors runs across ticks sooner or later, and many activities can get you up close and personal with several ticks.

I've never heard words of praise for the tick, in fact, the questions and concerns I hear are from folks who are really repulsed by this insect. They don't look good, they crawl around on us, they are always searching for a 'blood meal,' and the bite causes itching and irritation, and to top it off, they may be carriers of some serious diseases. Before I go further today, let me mention that UK has a couple of excellent publications (ENT 35 and EntFact 648) available to you for more detail about ticks, potential problems, and control and prevention measures.

A client recently brought a very small tick in to the Extension Office for ID and information. While the majority of ticks around Henry County are likely the American dog tick, this one had the characteristic white spot on the back of the female Lone Star tick. Because of its small size, it is likely this was the nymphal stage. Two other tick species known but rare in Kentucky are the brown dog tick and the black legged tick.

All ticks must have three blood meals before they can lay eggs to start the next generation. When the thousands of eggs from one female hatch on the ground they become larvae or 'seed ticks.' They are no bigger than the period at the end of this sentence. The first host is usually a small mammal such as a mouse, and when done, the larvae become nymphs. Second host to the American dog tick is usually a bit larger mammal such as a groundhog or fox, and once finished with the second meal, they become adults. This adult stage then climbs up on tall grass or weeds to wait for a brush with humans or dogs. While the adult American dog tick is the only stage we see on humans, all stages of the Lone Star tick will feast on us. And, while the mouthparts of the American dog tick are relatively small, making this tick fairly easy to remove from the skin, the mouthparts of the Lone Star tick are big and barbed, and definitely harder to pull out.

If you would like help in identifying ticks, and would like to know methods and techniques to prevent and control ticks, please contact us at the Henry County Extension Office (845-2811).

Clover bloat

Dr. Jeff Lehmkuhler, UK beef specialist, indicates that several county agents and producers around central Kentucky continue to report some loss of cattle to clover bloat. I just confirmed this fact with the Henry County Animal Clinic. It is important to realize that the feed additives used to aid in reducing the risk to bloat must be consumed at the targeted levels every day.

Overcrowding around blocks and mineral feeders will prevent some cattle from obtaining their necessary amount. Also, this latest heat wave has pushed cattle to seek shade. This heat will also slightly alter grazing patterns resulting in larger meal bouts and increased risk to bloat. Moving the bloat blocks and mineral feeders near shade and water sources will encourage more consumption during this heat and may lower risk.

Producers should use one block per five head or less to avoid overcrowding and increase opportunities for all cattle to consume the blocks or minerals. Placing some high quality grass hay near the shade areas will also stimulate greater consumption of hay to lower the risk of bloat.

Dr. Lehmkuhler encourages producers to have a bottle of Therabloat (liquid poloxalene) on hand to drench bloated animals. Though not ideal, if drenching proves to be a challenge and a tube is not available, a syringe and large gauge needle (14 ga x 2 inch) can be used to puncture the hide and rumen and deliver the poloxalene intraruminally while also serve as a mini-trocar and release some gas at a slow rate.

Because a severely bloated animal can die within minutes, a trocar may be a wise investment for the cattleman's toolbox as we continue to have bloat issues. Dr. Lehmkuhler's suggestion/recommendation is that unskilled individuals call their veterinarian for some training prior to using this instrument. This way the proper location is punctured to allow a speedy recovery on subsequent animals that may need this intervention.

Get back to your New Years resolution and get active this spring

New Year's resolutions to lose weight or get healthier may be long forgotten, but spring, with its beautiful flowers and warmer weather, is the perfect time to rejuvenate those resolutions by getting active outdoors.

Most of us know that regular physical activity can help prevent heart disease and type 2 diabetes, reduce the risk of some cancers, help you maintain a healthy weight; strengthen muscles and bones and improve your mental health. Regardless, most of us do not get the exercise we need.

One way you can increase your activity level is by using your built environment, including sidewalks, stoplights, trails and parks like the great walking path at the Henry County Recreation and Services Park just north of New Castle, or the disc golf course at Harry Hill, developed by the last Leadership Henry Class. It may be appealing for those just beginning an exercise program to start by using the built environment because it's close to home and doesn't require the upfront costs of a gym membership. You just have to make time to use it.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, adults should aim for 30 or more minutes per day of moderate physical activity on five or more days of the week. Additionally, individuals need to engage in muscle-strengthening activities that work all major muscles groups two or more days per week. These activities can be done in 10-minute intervals. Aerobic activity is anything that gets you breathing harder and your heart pumping faster.

Taking an evening walk on a walking trail or through your neighborhood can help you reach 2.5 hours a week, as long as you're walking at a brisk pace. Bicycling or roller skating are also good forms of exercise that can be done in your built environment.

If you have a chronic condition or disability, you can still reap the benefits of physical activity, but you should check with your doctor before your start any exercise program. They will be able to give you suggestions for types of physical activities that may work best for you.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

FFA BAGS TREES

SUBMITTED

Then Henry County Conservation District provides tree seedlings on an annual basis to the fourth grade students in the county school systems to observe Arbor/Earth Day. The district utilizes any opportunity available to impress in the minds of our youth the vital importance of conservation of our Henry County natural resources. The district purchases different species that will thrive here and the Kentucky Division of Forestry matches the order with white pine seedlings. After distribution to the schools, the remainder are offered on a first come basis to anyone who wishes to 'plant a tree' to beautify their property. These little trees must be packaged in moistened newspaper and bagged in plastic sleeves for the child's transportation to their homes. This is a messy, time consuming process. We are fortunate to have Lindsey Davie, Henry County High School Agriculture teacher and some of her students to help accomplish this project. The district is very grateful to these young people for their willingness to help. Pictured are Davie and some of the students newspaper dipping, sorting species, bagging, counting to large plastic bags for transportation to the county schools.

2011 REPORT ON WATER QUALITY FOR THE EMINENCE WATER WORKS THIS REPORT CONTAINS INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR DRINKING WATER

Why This Report?

This report discusses the quality of the water delivered to your tap by the Eminence Water Works. We strive to produce the best quality of water possible. This means we want you to always have water that:

- Has a clean taste
- Is clear and crisp in appearance
- Never has an unpleasant smell
- Is safe and healthful to drink

Where Does Your Water Come From?

We get our water from the Henry County Water District #2. They obtain their water from six wells along the Ohio River in Trimble County near the end of Morton Ridge Road. Although the wells are along the Ohio River, the water has been shown to be groundwater originating from areas inland from the river. An analysis of the susceptibility of this water source to contamination has been completed and it has been determined that the susceptibility is medium. There are a total of 5 potential sources of contamination within the protection area of these wells with the following susceptibility rankings: 2 are high, 3 are medium and none are low. Two of these sources of contamination, above ground storage tanks and agricultural activities are ranked as high susceptibility. Three sources of contamination, septic tanks and a county road are ranked as medium susceptibility. The complete susceptibility analysis report can be viewed at the KIPDA Area Development District office in Louisville or the Kentucky Division of Water office in Frankfort.

What Does the Water Treatment Plant Do to Your Water?

After pumping the water from the wells, it is treated with processes that remove any objectionable tastes or odors and then disinfected with chlorine before it is pumped to our customers. These processes primarily achieve filtration and disinfection of the water. This helps to remove any harmful chemicals, bacteria and other microorganisms that might be in the water.

If You Have Questions or Want to Get Involved

Questions about this report or operation of the water plant can be directed to Mr. William Smith at 845-4159. The Eminence city council is the governing body for the Water Works and meets at the Eminence City Hall at 6:15 pm on the second Monday of every month.

Understanding This Report

In order to help you understand this report, we want you to understand a few terms and abbreviations that are contained in it.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): It is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): This is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): Is the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that the addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG): Is the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLG's do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Action Level (AL): An action level is the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

NTU means Nephelometric Turbidity Units and is a measure of turbidity (cloudiness).

ppm means parts per million or milligrams per liter and is a measure of the concentration of a contaminant.

ppb (or ug/L) means parts per billion or micrograms per liter and is a measure of the concentration of a contaminant.

Treatment Technique (TT) is a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water ppm means parts per million or milligrams per liter and is a measure of the concentration of a contaminant.

ppb means parts per billion or micrograms per liter and is a measure of the concentration of a contaminant.

pCi/L means picocuries per liter and is a measure of radioactivity

N/A means not applicable for this item

Most of the results in the table are from monitoring during the 2011 calendar year. However, some contaminants are not required to be monitored on an annual basis and so the results may be from prior years.

Special Information on Lead

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Eminence Water Works is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Particulate Contaminants
Turbidity (NTU) See footnote 1 below.	95% of all monthly samples must be <0.3 NTU (TT). No one sample may ever exceed 1 NTU		Highest individual measurement was 0.24. All samples taken in 2011 were <0.3.		NO	Continuously in 2011	Soil and urban stormwater runoff.

1 – Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the water. We monitor it because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of our filtration system.

Violations

Eminence received no violations for the year 2011.

Why Are There Contaminants in My Water?

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals, and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be in source water before treatment include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, that may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, that can be naturally occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.

Pesticides and herbicides, that may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, stormwater runoff and residential uses.

Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

Radioactive contaminants that can be naturally occurring or the result of oil and gas production or mining.

In order to ensure that your water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water that must provide the same protections for public health.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at 1-800-426-4791.

Do I Need to Take Any Special Precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immune compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800)-426-4791.
